IN ASSOCIATION WITH

focus

It's true ... there is only one truly global company focused exclusively on modeling, simulation and training. In fact, training and simulation is our business.

CAE's experience, expertise, and technology leadership is evident in the comprehensive flight simulation and training solutions we offer. We own and operate more than 45 aviation training centres worldwide where more than 100,000 military and civil crewmembers train annually. We have delivered more than 500 Level D simulators – the benchmark for quality and fidelity – which is more than any other company. We have developed the “first” simulator for more than 40 aircraft types. We have been an innovator of simulation technologies such as electric motion, visual and display systems, dynamic synthetic environments and distributed mission operations training capabilities.

CAE's global presence, focus, and technology leadership all come together in our development of world-class flight simulation and training solutions. As defence and security forces prepare to increase the level of simulation-based training for aircrews, trust a company with the flexibility, experience, and proven commitment to working as a true partner.
